High School To Hold Three-Way Meet Saturday As Outing Club Lays Plans for Postponed Tournament
Here Next Sunday.

The fourth and final meet of the 1942 season of the Interscholastic Ski Federation will be held at Truckee on Saturday, February 14. The date originally set for this meet was February 7. However, a combination of the California Ski Association Class B and C qualifying meet and the Examiner-Soda Springs "Buy A Bomber" tournament produced an insurmountable conflict.

According to the original schedule the events at the Truckee meet were to be limited to boys' cross-country and jumping. Bernard Corrigan, local coach has suggested that a down-

FOR VICTORY :: BUY BONDS- OBSTACLES FORCE CANCELLATION OF SKI MEET ON HILL

SUGAR BOWL, Feb. 12—Contrary to previous reports, the National Four-Way Championship ski tournament will not be held at Sugar Bowl as planned. The decision to call off the tournament was brought about by three factors:

1. The proposed down-mountain championship course has been closed by military authorities.

2. The state of war makes it impossible for a representative aggregation of eligible skiers to attend.

3. The only remaining course would be off Red Mountain, which is not easily accessible, or Mount Disney, which requires the Hindmarsh start principle which is not satisfactory in this type of meet.

FOR VICTORY :: BUY BONDS- KNITTERS NEEDED BY RED CROSS IN TRUCKEE AT ONCE

Fifty pounds of yarn were received this morning by Mrs. G. J. E. Keetch, chairman of production for the local Red Cross. This yarn is to be knitted into sweaters for the soldiers and the finished garments are needed as soon as they can be finished. While the average soldier and sailor is adequately clothed by the government, there are exceptions. Our boys in Iceland are such an exception and can make good use of additional clothing. When a commanding officer desires such additional clothing and as sweaters he applies to the Red Cross which arranges for the garments to be knitted.

At present such requests by commanding officers total over 15,000 knitted articles. All women who can assist in knitting are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Keetch.

Skiers in class B and C must compete in the local meet to qualify for the state championships to be held at Tahoe early in March.

Angelo Besio, local class A skier, will lay out the two courses for weekend events.

Skiers of the Truckee Outing Club and the Lake Tahoe Ski Club made very creditable showings at the "Buy A Bomber" ski tournament at Soda Springs last Sunday. Carl Becholdt, Jr., of Tahoe placed second to Bobby Blatt of Palo Alto in the class A combined downhill and slalom, with Angelo Besio of Truckee fifth. Bill Becholdt of Tahoe won the Class B competition with Dick Carnell, also of Tahoe, third; Byron Johnson of Truckee, ninth, and Eddie Aro of Truckee tenth. # ABOVE the HULLABALOO

by LYTLE HULL

It is very pleasant to pick up the morning paper, or to turn on the radio, and read or hear that we are already accomplishing important things in this war. Large headlines in the Big Town press give us daily the good news that we are sinking Japanese ships and downing their airplanes. These big headlines make life agreeable with their graphic description of the advances of the Russian armies; they calm us into a feeling of security with references to every lot of encouraging news which can be squeezed out of the reports from Washington and from overseas. And when we turn on the radio we are lulled to sleep with inspiring stories of conquest upon conquest for our side.

But on the second page, or down at the bottom of the first, or from casual mention by the radio news broadcaster—we learn that the enemy has advanced a few more miles; that some of our planes are also missing; that a British battleship has been sunk; and that the enemy has effected a new landing on some strategic spot in the Pacific; or that the Allied forces have been pushed back in Libya.

It is fortunate that we are given glimpses—no matter how fleeting—of some of the evil news which emanates from the battlefronts. For if we were to be given only the pleasant facts, we would roll over and go completely to sleep; and when we woke up the fight would be over and we would be paying war alimony to Messrs. Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini.

The British didn't wake up until their situation became so threatening that there was no longer any use trying to fool themselves. If they had slept a little longer England would by now have become a German winter resort. We are a good like the British in character—only we are tougher. We can stand anything they can—and then some. So why rock ourselves to sleep, and slow down our efforts and our efficiency, by feeding ourselves cake only when we should be swallowing the garlic also?

One seldom puts up a real fight until he has to. The situation in the Pacific at the time of this writing couldn't be much more unfavorable than it is for the United Nations. If this fact were hammered into us day by day—instead of being comforted by the painkillers we are getting—we would realize that we have got to buckle down all the way or get a beating.

It is a mathematical certainty that we can win this war; but we must bear in mind the fact that we can lose it. To be perfectly frank with ourselves, we will lose it—or have to compromise it—unless we put every ounce we have got into it. But why is going to give every ounce unless every ounce is required? And who can read the big good news headlines and listen to the happy commentators—day in and day out—and still believe it is going to require much effort to clean up the Japs and throw in Germany and Italy for good measure?

Let us have our meat raw and we will chew it—but if we continue to feed on pap long enough—we will get chewed.

This Week Last Decade

from the TRUCKEE REPUBLICAN
February 18, 1932

Alfred Wells and John Baker, caretakers at Emerald Bay, were drowned in Lake Tahoe when their rowboat capsized as they were going out to the lake steamer to get mail and supplies.

Tom Sappour of Sacramento called on the editor of the Republican and told him that on February 28, 1908, the snow was 28 feet deep at Summit Hotel.

Plans have been completed for the annual championship meet to be held February 21-22.
I. S. Wilson of Sacramento was appointed S. P. agent for Truckee upon the transfer of J. E. Bick from here. Wilson was at one time agent at Boca.

Truckee Ski Club members captured top honors at the Reno Ski Club meet. Orlan Sanders took first in class B jumping and won the cup for the longest standing jump—109 feet. Earl Edmunds was first and Joe Passenetti third in class C jumping. Karl Kielhofer was second and Maxwell McGinnis third in class D. Catherine Rossarini was second in the women's race, finishing a second behind the winner. Jess Maxson was second in the ten-mile cross-country.

Due to the inability to properly heat the Methodist Church, services and Sunday school was held in the Odd Fellows hall.

At Homewood, Jake Obexer was busy keeping the snow cleared off his building and distributing mail regularly to the winter resorts.

Supervisor Alex Robertson of Hobart Mills left Saturday by auto for Los Angeles. A crew of men dug out his car from the snowbound garage, loaded it on a Hobart and Southern R. R. flat car and transported it to Truckee, from whence the supervisor drove on to his destination.

Renewed Dedication

We highly resolve . . . . . that this Nation under God shall have a new birth of Freedom, and that this Government of the people, by the people, for the people shall NOT perish from the earth"

Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech

'We Highly Resolve. . . .'

ADVERTISING AND THE AMERICAN WAY

Though London's shopping public is only twenty minutes from the enemy and his menacing air fields across the Channel, newspapers of that empire capital are faithfully carrying on their advertising.

Such is the gist of an official survey just completed in London, showing that despite bombs and blitz, food rationing and regulations, advertising is doing an indispensable job even in time of war, or rather we should say, particularly in time of war. For war brings advancing living costs. It limits supplies of certain goods. It demands increasingly higher taxes. All of this means the savings achieved by advertising are today more important than ever to the shopping public. As a dynamic force in raising living standards, keeping free enterprise in healthy working order, and helping maintain a free press untrammelled by government control, advertising stands allied to the present battle for freedom.

This point was doubtless recognized when Price Administrator Henderson termed advertising a vital civilian activity that must continue. By creating demand, it has made quantity production and mass distribution possible, and enormously reduced the costs in both these fields. For that reason, our large scale retailing systems have always been among the nation's major users of advertising space. It is a reason why the demand for advertising space in London's newspapers today far exceeds the supply. It is the reason the London

"We here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that the government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

On the birthday of Abraham Lincoln is a fitting time for us to consider the full significance of this famous quotation from his Gettysburg address. It is also a good time to add our deep approval to that resolve, for every one of us today is determined to see to it that no American who has died for the cause of freedom has died in vain.

We may not think of our defense of freedom from the viewpoint of preserving a heritage for which many of our forefathers gave their lives. We are more apt to think of it as a struggle to preserve our own comforts and to protect the future of our children.

But actually the American tradition is something bigger than any of us—something that was built up at tremendous sacrifice by generations of hardy souls who worked and fought to prove that a nation could be "conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

At times in our recent history it has looked as though the hard work was done—that the nation our forefathers conceived had been completed—and we of the present generation could sit back and enjoy the fruits of freedom without further struggle.

But that is not to be. Our freedom has again been threatened and we, as Americans, are once more called upon to protect it with our lives. Once again we must prove to another challenger that "the government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

survey declared, in words we can take to heart here:
"Every advertisement appearing there today is direct testimony to someone's faith in the future; it is someone's toast to victory."

AMERICA ANSWERS ON R-DAYS

John Smith, college student; Olav Sveason, Minnesota farm helper; Harry Shapiro, Chicago taxi-driver; Joe de Floria, Monterey fisherman; Joe Pulaski, Pittsburgh factory hand; Sam Jones, Los Angeles salesman—not actual names, of course, but they do represent the millions of men from many walks of life, of differing ancestries, who will answer their nation's call for military service registration, February 14 to 16.

Drawn from city and farm, from coal mines and fishing fleets, from business houses and institutions, their names and number are a measure of America's strength and unity. The ten million men between the ages of 20 and 44 who will register on this third R-Day are this country's unequivocal answer to the powers of darkness whose jungle laws exalt tyranny, aggression, and the false gods of racial superiority, hoping to extinguish in the world the divine spark of conscience and compassion which sets civilized men apart from brutes and savages.

America will fight fire with fire until the forces organized for hatred, intolerance and conquest are swept from the earth. But it is not only a victory of arms that America is determined upon. The nation is mustering her towering strength to preserve her future, as well as present, security and to maintain in the world that belief in decency, individual dignity and fair play without which a new Dark Age would engulf us. From the time of Plymouth Rock, we have held aloft that belief for religious and economically oppressed of all lands. America is the product of the toil and hopes of men and women of many nations. Today, as the call for another R-Day sounds, the Smiths and Svensons, Pulaskis and Jones, de Florias and Shapiros will be entering their names on the military registration lists, ten million strong, Americans all, prepared to defend this one nation indivisible.

One of the most precious gifts of a free people is a sense of humor. There was proof the nation's was in good running order as, during the past week, Congress found itself on the receiving end of sharp jibes—reproof for the life-long pensions members of Congress voted themselves at a time the rest of the country is being admonished to give, not take. This is one pension plan which has been conspicuous for its lack of public support.

My Place In The Sun

by DOUG BARKETT

You'd be surprised at what little bits of interesting information I can pick up from the exchanges we get every week. . . . Just for instance, this week I read in the Placer Herald of Auburn that Chas. B. White, the bond sales chairman in Truckee, was born and raised Auburn, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John White of that city. . . . From the Sacramento Bee, I find that the state board of education (which gave its support to the creation of the Donner Trail school district) is not as infallible as County Superintendent Carlson indicated in his letter to my boss last week. . . . and it would seem, from the Nevada City Nugget, that we are in for some changes in the court house this year County Assessor John M. Hammill will not seek re-election and that Eben K. Smart is a probable candidate for the job.

Truckee has had a lion's share of notable visitors, especially a few years back. . . . It is reported in Edwards' tourist guide of 1883 that on Oct. 3, 1875, while still President, U. S. Grant was in town and personally drove the stage from here to Tahoe. . . . President Rutherford B. Hayes, victor over Sam Tilden in the famous "long count" of 1876, took breakfast at the Truckee Hotel on Sept. 8, 1880. . . . and in the same year, President James A. Garfield, while campaigning for the Presidency, took breakfast with J. F. Moody and visited Lake Tahoe. . . . Since the publication of the book aforementioned, it is stated that President Grover Cleveland was a fishing visitor here. . . . And in May, 1877, the last reigning monarch of Latin America, Dom Pedro II of Brazil, passed a few hours in Truckee before touring the lakes in the high Sierra.

Above is a portrait of a temporarily local business man who really ought to do a "rushing" business—if you know what I mean. It's bad enough when this specie of homo sapiens burns our tourist guests so that they never want to see Truckee again, but lately there have been specialists in our midst bumming only service men. It is to the credit of Deputy Dolley that this representative businessman never acquires a permanent and picked clientele in Truckee.

STREET SEENS: Joe Zorich, girded with a greasy apron, getting the morning mail. . . . Joe Colla and friend of Placerville in town Saturday. . . . Frank Powell, octogenarian plus, and Charlie Swanson of Lake Tahoe swapping yarns in the Sierra Sun office. . . . Marion Lothrop breakfast-bought into the California. . . . Rose Mattos hurrying to Mass Sunday. . . . Oscar Schumacher and assistant pushing snow off the roof of the Masonic hall. . . . Johnny Pettiti over from the big little city—Reno. . . . with an eye to the current first aid class and the epidemic of ski bunnies, the first aid kit display in Loynd's Drug window is very much to the point. . . . George Dawley of the Biggs News passing through on the weekend.

A WEEK OF THE WAR

President Roosevelt told his press conference Pacific councils coordinating the war effort of the United States in the southwest Pacific have been operating for about a month. The military command in the ABDA area itself, the President said, is in the hand of Gen. Archibald Wavell, but strategic problems are referred to Washington and London. The joint military and naval staffs sit in Washington.

The Senate passed and sent to the White House a joint authorization for a $500,000,000 loan to China. President Roosevelt said the money will make it possible for the Chinese to purchase numerous war materials both in China and in other countries. He said the loan would be a definite relief for the Chinese financial structure strained by the long war with the Japanese.

The White House announced the U. S. through the RAF has dropped a second pamphlet over several occupied French seaports in the "biggest pamphlet bombing job ever done." The first pamphlet, announced a month ago, stressed the "national friendship between this country and France; the second told of the rapidly-expanding U. S. war production.

AIR
A Navy aviation training program designed to develop 30,000 of the toughest pilots in the world annually for the Navy and Marine Corps will be put into operation by May 1, Navy Secretary Knox announced. Applications for training are now being accepted. Mr. Knox asked U. S. high school youth to aid the Navy by producing 500,000 aircraft models of 50 different types of fighting planes to be used in aircraft recognition and range estimation in gunnery practice and for training civilians in aircraft recognition. The Office of Civilian Defense invited college flyers and aviation enthusiasts to participate in the Civilian Air Patrol which is seeking to enlist 90,000 civilian pilots. Sixteen years is the minimum age for enrollment for ground service, and 18 for flight duty. The Civil Aeronautics Administration reported a 60 per cent increase in private flying during 1941.

THE WAR FRONT
Gen. MacArthur's troops in the Philippines repulsed continuous attacks by the enemy throughout the week. Enemy losses during the week included 11 planes plus an undetermined number destroyed in the air, and on the ground in an attack on Japanese-occupied Marshall and Gilbert Islands, many fleet auxiliaries, two transports and "probably" a third, and an enemy warship torpedoed. U. S. losses were 13 planes, two tankers and two freighters. The navy and Marine Corps reported 1,294 officers and men missing or prisoners of war. The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to continue the pay of persons in the armed forces and civilian employees of the War and Navy for a year after reported missing, captured or interned.

NAVY
Congress passed the largest appropriations and $4 billion in contract authorizations for the Navy. The Navy said 100,000 men have enlisted since the attack on Pearl Harbor, and the Marine Corps has passed the 100,000-man mark in officers and men both reserves and regulars. Three destroyers and one battleship were launched and two more destroyers and one more cruiser will be launched Lincoln's birthday.

SELECTIVE SERVICE
Selective Service Director Hershey asked local draft boards to aid deferment of apprentices in essential war production trades because there is a mounting demand for skilled workers. Gen. Hershey said a plan has been proposed for allowances and allotments to release for induction many registrants now deferred on grounds of dependency. In World War I, he said, payments up to $50 a month were made. He said no figures will be issued on the number of men who register February 16.

SHIPPING
President Roosevelt told his press conference emergency shipping schedules make it impossible to utilize full cargo capacity of American merchant vessels because war developments of maintained its ship-a-day construction schedule by launching 14 new vessels during the last half of January. Eight French merchant ships in U. S. ports were requisitioned by the Commission.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE
The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to create a $1,000,000,000 fund to compensate American property owners for war damages. The fund would compensate for losses other than life or personal injury to the extent of $15,000. OGD Executive Landis announced cities in target areas will not be required to submit requisitions for protective equipment including gas masks and auxiliary fire-fighting equipment to be provided by $100 million of Federal funds. He said the equipment would be allocated to the various areas according to their likelihood to attack, vulnerability and present equipment. Attorney General Eiddle established a special War Frauds Unit within the department of Justice to prosecute all cases involving frauds in connection with the war effort.

PRODUCTION & CONSERVATION
The WPB announced it cleared contracts amounting to $3 billion in the week ending January 21. The War Department announced production of .30 caliber ball ammunition was nearly doubled during the first three weeks of January 1942 over the corresponding period last year. War Department Production Director Knudsen announced the Chrysler Corporation will construct a $100,000,000 plant in Chicago to turn out Wright 12-cylinder air-cooled engines.

War Production Chairman Nelson announced adoption of a system of daily progress reports to check production delays "anywhere along the line." He merged priorities and subcontracting field offices in a new Bureau of Field Operations to provide "faster, more efficient service to business and industry." The WPB asked the typewriter manufacturing industry which produced 1,000,000 machines in 1941 to cut its normal production 25 per cent immediately and convert its facilities to war production.

Making a Soldier of Sugar

AS we have sent men abroad to fight for America—as we have sent money—as we have drafted steel, with other commodities, into fighting-service or enlisted wheat and other fighting-foods—so we must make a soldier of sugar.

Nutrient for the nations at war is as vital to the outcome as the powder that feeds the guns. A great nutrient in time of peace—in war a veritable sinew—sugar is now called upon to play a heroic part, to supply the peoples of our Allies—whose strength is ours.

To wrap up sugar in the American flag, so to speak, and put it into the fight becomes a duty of loyalty. It will be borne cheerfully by every industry, every dealer, and every individual it falls upon. Upon certain industries it falls heavily—and especially on the workers who derive their living from them. Yet the American civilian is in this war with the soldier. American business great and small, American capital from Wall Street to the remotest country bank, is with the Government every step of the way. The U. S. means U. S. All of us, are in the fight with everything we have, the best of everything we can.

This company regards it a privilege to comply with the government's request, and to help in the conservation of sugar.

To the end of conservation we pledge our efforts in every direction that opportunity may disclose, in manufacture as well as beyond the scope of our immediate interests; and in this effort generally we bespeak the co-operation of dealers and consumers everywhere.

THE COCA-COLA COMPANY
ATLANTA, GA.

WORLD WAR I 1917

The United States Government restricted the use of sugar in World War I. The response of The Coca-Cola Company was expressed in the newspaper advertisement reproduced at the left.

Again, Sugar enlists for Victory

WORLD WAR II 1942

History repeats itself in World War II. Sugar has been called to war again. Our government has restricted the use of sugar for all. Naturally, that includes Coca-Cola.

You'll continue to find Coca-Cola around the corner from anywhere, though we regret that you won't be able to enjoy the pause that refreshes as often as you might like. Our volume has been reduced. But this we pledge: the character of Coca-Cola will be unimpaired. The American people can continue to trust its quality.

As in 1917, we count upon the patience of dealers everywhere. Conserving sugar is another step toward Victory. Whatever any of us may have, or may not have, Victory we must have above all else!

"They can give you the bird, and they can give it to anybody. I think you'll win, but you've got to win—don't make any mistake about that. You've got to lam it in their teeth and make them like it," Cecil said.

"When is the concert?"

"Ouch!"

"Did you hear me?"

"I heard you..."

When we got to the hotel I took a room and sent up my stuff, and then we went up to her suite. A guy was there reading. "Mr. Wilkins, who plays our accompaniments. Mr. Borland, Ray; our baritone."

We shook hands, and he fished some papers out of his pocket. "The printer's proofs of the program. I came while you were out, Cecil. He's got to have it back, with corrections by five o'clock."

She passed one over to me. It gave me a funny feeling to see my name there.

I said, "It's all right—pretty nifty. Except that Leonard Borland is gradually on purpose going to turn into Logan Bennett."

"Oh, yes. I meant to ask you about that. Will you change it, Ray? And make sure it's changed on his groups."

"I only sing twice?"

"That's all. Give Ray your music so he can go over it. He always plays from memory. He never takes music on stage."

Wilkins left. She had me ha-ha for ten minutes, then said my voice was up and stopped me. Some sandwiches and milk came up.

"You don't get any dinner," Cecil explained.

I tried to eat, and couldn't get much down. Seeing that program had made me nervous. When I had eaten what I could, she told me to go in and sleep. "A fat chance I could sleep!"

"Lie down, then. Be quiet. No walking around, no vocalizing."

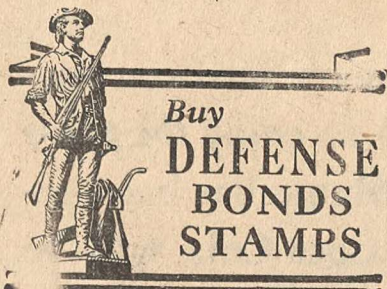

I went in my room, took off my clothes and lay down. None of it was turning out the way I thought it was going to.

I must have slept, because I had put a call in for seven o'clock, and when it came it woke me up. I took applause stopped and she looked at me. "All right, baby."

Wilkins put the handkerchief in his pocket, raised his hand, "One—two—"

I aimed for the center of the stage, got there, and bowed, the way I had practiced. They gave me a hand. Then I looked up and tried to do what she had told me to do, look them over, top, bottom, and around. But all I could see was faces, faces, faces, all staring at me, all trying to swim around my throat. Then I began to think about that first number and the one chord I would bet, and how I had to be ready. I stood there, and it seemed so long I got a panicky feeling that Wilkins hadn't come out. Then I heard the chord, and right away started to sing.

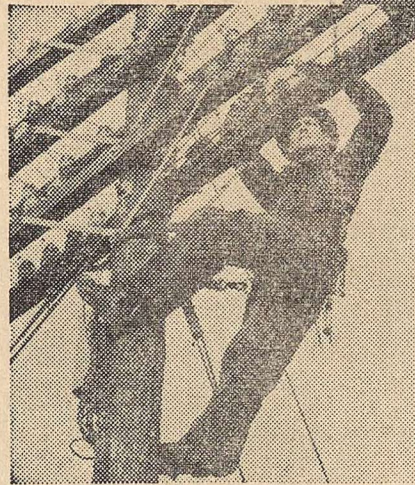

My voice sounded so big it startled me, and I tried to throttle it down, and couldn't. There are no piano interludes in that song. It goes straight through, for three verses, at a fast clip, and the more I tried to pull in and get myself under some kind of control, the louder it got and the faster I kept going until at the finish Wilkins had a hard time keeping up with me. They gave me a little bit of a hand, and I didn't want to bow. I wanted to apologize and explain that that wasn't the way it was supposed to go. But I bowed, some kind of way.

Then came Scarlatti's "O Cessate Di Piagnere." It's short and ought to start soft, lead up to a crescendo in the middle, and die away at the end. I was so rung up by then I couldn't sing softly if I tried. I started it, and my voice bellowed all over the place and it was terrible. There was a bare ripple after that, and Wilkins went into the opening of the third song the last of the group. It was the "Come Raggio Di Sol" by Caldara, and it's another that opens soft. I sang it soft for about two measures and then I exploded like some radio when you turn it up too quick. After that it was a hog-calling contest. Wilkins saw it was hopeless, and came down on the soft pedal so it would maybe sound as though that were the way it was supposed to go. But a fat chance we had of fooling that audience. I finished, and on the pianissimo at the end, it sounded like a locomotive whistling for a curve. When it was over, there was a little scattering applause, and I bowed. I bowed center, and took the quarter turn to bow to the side. The applause stopped. I kept right on turning and walked off stage.

DALE CARNEGIE'S COLUMN

IT TAKES ONLY A MINUTE TO BE COURTEOUS

In 1936 a farmer near Marshall, Mo. drove to town, pulled over to the curbing to park and got out to do his "trading". As he climbed from his car, a car from another state drew into the white parallel lines near him. The man in the other car evidently had never been in the town before for he called to two boys who were walking by and asked a question. The boys threw him a flippant answer and sauntered on. Again the man asked the question, and the boys made an even more ungracious response. The man had to inquire of some one else. The farmer's name was A. Harry Orr.

This set the farmer to thinking. Why couldn't the boys have been courteous to the stranger? Courtesy costs nothing, he reasoned; it takes only a minute of time; it makes people happier.

As he drove home that afternoon he kept thinking about the scene he had witnessed. Yes, just common courtesy would have solved it. So he decided to see what he could do to teach the boys and girls of his town to be more courteous. It seemed like a big order, but he would at least try. He went quietly about making his plans and on the first day of the next year—January, 1938—he had organized "The Courtesy Club" announcing that he would, out of his own pocket, pay a cash prize of $10 each to the most courteous girl and boy in Saline county, Mo. The contest was to run throughout the year.

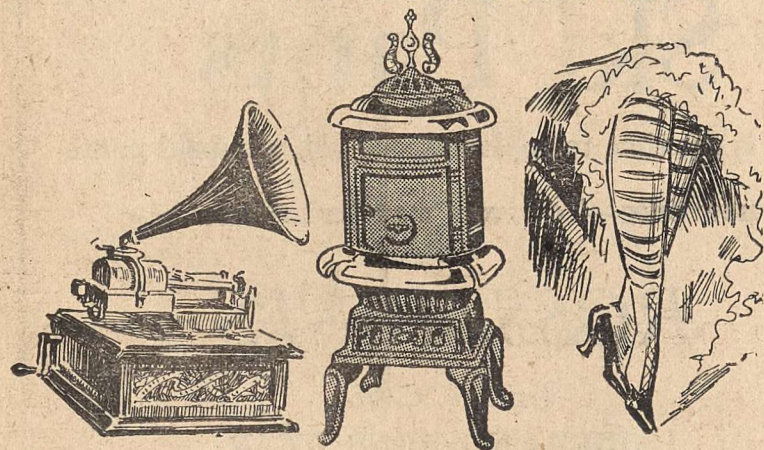

The club was open to all boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 18. There would be five judges who were to keep watch over the children, in their work and at their play as well as at school and on the streets.

But no judge was to know who the other judges were. Each was to function separately, and keep notes during the year. In November he called them together, to decide the winner. But the judges had had help, for every school teacher and club president was given a score card and requested to hand in notes and memos to be used by the judges. Thus with all the material before them, plus their own personal observation, the judges made their decision.

I would like to see courtesy clubs spring up over the United States. And how much needed is just common, ordinary, everyday courtesy! It takes only a moment; it may warm a heart all day!

PROGRESS

Progress has relegated to the dusty attic many relics of a thousand yesterdays. The Edison gramophone of uncertain tone has given way to the electrically controlled radio-phonograph. The confining womens styles of the early 1900s are a far cry from the free, healthier and more attractive products of the present day. And, the old wood and coal stove belongs to an earlier generation. The back-breaking dirty work of getting the fuel, sifting the ashes for "clinkers" and disposing of mountains of wasted fuel in the form of ashes is no longer necessary or economical. Oil heat has relegated this cold weather torture to the land of the dodo bird.

Let us prove to you the advantages of heating with oil. See the attractive designs in oil heating units and investigate the low cost of operation.

TAHOE VOLUNTEERS SAVE LAKE FOREST HOME FROM FIRE

LAKE FOREST, Feb. 12—Quick action on the part of the Tahoe City Volunteer Fire Department and other residents prevented the destruction by fire of the Jay Stuart home at Lake Forest, 1½ miles east of Tahoe City, about noon Friday when the building caught fire from an over-heated chimney that had insufficient air space between it and adjoining walls, according to information received from District Ranger H. I. Snider of the Tahoe National Forest at Truckee. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Stuart and was put out by volunteers with fire extinguishers and men shoveling snow after it had burned through the interior walls near the chimney.

All residents in the forest and others traveling through the forest are urged to keep a shovel, ax, ladder and hose or barrels of water ready to use at their homes for such emergency, since many fires can be put out before they become disastrous if such simple tools are made available for instant use. Home owners should also have boxes or barrels of sand or fine dirt provided in a dry place so that it will not freeze hard as it would in a damp condition. Such material is especially effective if the fire is caused by oil or gasoline on the outside where air dissipates the effectiveness of fire extinguishers. Many travelers through the forest this coming summer may prevent a fire from becoming larger if they have a shovel with them and will use it at the right time, Snider states.

Olson reiterated his condemnation of the 1937 Silver Burdett Company language text book contract under which the state would be forced to pay higher royalties than on competitive bids and still receive a book not approved by the state curriculum commission. The issue is still in the courts. Olson's suggestions received hearty support from Dr. Walter Dexter, state superintendent of public instruction.

SECRETARY OF STATE GIVES OUT RULES OF ELECTIONS IN 1942

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 12 —(UP)— It is a sure sign of election year when the secretary of state outlines the official regulations governing the election—in this case the primary election on August 25 and the general election November 3.

The last to register for the primary is July 16 and for the general election, September 24.

A total of 134 state officials are to be nominated in the primary, not including the 58 county governments and other political subdivisions. These are headed by governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, controller, treasurer, attorney general, four members of the state board of equalization, and superintendent of public instruction.

Also to be nominated are 23 representatives in Congress, 20 state senators, in even-numbered districts, 84 state assemblymen, and judges of the superior court in counties where terms expire.

Only four political parties are qualified for the August election, Democrat, Republican, Townsend and Prohibition. The old Progressive was eliminated by a change in party qualification provision in the election code by the 1941 legislature.

The Communist party also was barred by the legislature from future California elections. The Communist challenged the action by filing a petition in the Los Angeles superior court a few days ago for a writ of mandate to compel Secretary of State Paul Peek to include their party on the August ballot.

May 27 is the first day on which primary candidates may circulate or file nomination papers. The deadline for filing declarations of candidacy sponsors' certificates and other candidacy documents is June 10.

Filing fees are $220 for attorney general, $200 for governor, $100 for secretary of state, controller, treasurer, and congressmen; $80 for lieutenant governor; $72 for equalization board members; $20 for state senators and assemblymen, and one per cent of the annual salary for county judges.

S. P. STARTS TAKING DELIVERY ON NEW ENGINES AND CARS

Southern Pacific will begin taking delivery this month on approximately $28,000,000 worth of new locomotives and freight cars, it was announced this week by A. T. Mercier, president.

The equipment, for which orders were placed last year, includes 40 heavy duty freight locomotives, 10 streamlined steam passenger locomotives of the "Daylight" type, 22 Diesel-electric switchers and 4,885 freight cars, 385 of which are being built in the railroad's own shops.

All deliveries under this program are expected to be completed by August, Mercier stated. The orders were placed as early as March, 1941, in anticipation of the tremendous volume of traffic the railroad is being called upon to handle, and brought to $52,000,000 Southern Pacific's equipment purchase since the beginning of 1940, it was pointed out.
